Materiality Process

Explain how you applied the materiality principle (or the materiality process) in identifying your material topics. ¹
In order to identify the sustainability issues that are of material importance to SBS and the relevant stakeholder groups, the SBS Sustainability Core Team conducted a Stakeholder Identification and Prioritization as the primary step of the process. More than 20 stakeholder groups had been identified in this initial step. The SBS Sustainability Core Team also conducted desktop review of trends, key drivers, and risks identified by national and international agencies, as well as industry specific sustainability issues as our reference to enable the grouping and prioritization of the relevant stakeholders and identification of probable material topics prior to comprehensive engagement with the stakeholders. Six sets of stakeholders interviews covering internal and external stakeholders will be conducted in 2020 to deep dive into the stakeholder perspective the issues that they considered relevant, their corresponding impacts, and expectation from SBS. Upon completion of this process, a list of sustainability topics that are material to the business of SBS and where we can create the most impact will be presented to SBS Board.

Based on the list of material issues and our sustainability strategy, management will set sustainability target and the planned actions for SBS for the next 3 years.

In the next annual sustainability reporting, the final list of the Material topics will be presented covering Economic, Environmental, and Social areas.
